This is me, Marissa

If you consider me, The Girl With The Camera, as your photographer I would love to meet you to discuss your ideas and dreams for your wedding day.

The emphasis is on documenting special moments, capturing spontaneous displays of emotion, telling your love story, as well as creating artistic portraits and details.

Appart from being a coffee snob and eating way too much dark chocolate, I love spending time with my family and creating beautiful memories with them.
